Course Description

This course develops a basic understanding of Spanish grammar and vocabulary, enhancing the four language skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing, and brings students' communicative competence to the CEFR A1 Level. Students explore the culture of Spain and Spanish America and engage in interactions in real communicative situations. The focus is on communication, and topics include the ability to ask and answer questions relating to personal characteristics, needs, and items; to recognize expressions of formal and informal social interaction; to request information in various settings (e.g. shopping, restaurants, weather, etc.); to describe objects, places, and events in the past or present; and to indicate preferences and personal taste, among others. This course facilitates the language acquisition process within an intensive immersion context and is instructed in Spanish through a hybrid grammar-intensive and communicative approach.
