Course Description

This intermediate Spanish course develops communicative proficiency at the B1 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). Students strengthen listening, reading, speaking, and writing skills while expanding their vocabulary and developing more complex grammatical structures. Through practical language activities, students learn to communicate about familiar academic, professional, social, and cultural topics, express opinions and experiences, and navigate everyday situations in Spanish-speaking contexts. The course also develops cultural awareness through the exploration of Spanish customs, society, media, politics, and contemporary issues. The course will enable advancement of one level.
