Course Description

This course focuses on each of the language skills listening, speaking, reading, writing and translation. It covers a series of subjects, genres and literary styles that reflect the characteristics of contemporary Chinese social life and ethnic culture. Its purpose is to enable students to study a diverse range of subjects, rich content and complex language structures in the original Chinese text. In addition, it will help students understand the original meaning and connotations of texts and increase their ability to use Chinese. Through the use of extensive vocabulary, grammar practice, correction of writing errors, analysis of texts, reading comprehension and other classroom exercises, this course aims at comprehensively explaining and training the skills and elements of Chinese Language that students typically find difficult to grasp.
