Course Description

This course explores the role of art in primary (elementary) education as a vehicle for aesthetic, perceptual, cognitive, and experiential learning. It offers a study of different approaches to visual and craft art education from creative self-expression to trends such as Barbosa's triangular approach, to intercultural art education, visual culture, etc. This course discusses the philosophy of techniques and materials and their relevance in primary education, as well as the main values of art and its role in education.
